

WIC Q&A

? When can I get on WIC?

Pregnant women can get on WIC and they stay on as postpartum women and also enroll infants, and children up to the age of 5.

? Can I be on WIC and SNAP at this same time?

Yes – eligible participants can receive WIC and SNAP benefits at the same time.

? If I am on WIC, does it take away from another person or family that needs it?

No it does not and in fact, the more participants on WIC, the more funding there is for the program.

? How often do I have to come to the WIC office?

At this time participants do not need to come into the office as all appointments are being conducted by phone. Participants do need to participate in phone appointments or online education lessons every 3 months.

? Can fathers be on WIC?

Fathers, grandparents, guardians are all welcome to enroll eligible children.

? How do I enroll in WIC?

Start an online application at coloradowicsignup.com or call our office to set up an initial phone enrollment appointment.

? What documents are needed to enroll?

If you are on Colorado Medicaid and your address is current in the Medicaid portal, you do not need to provide any documents. If you are not on Colorado Medicaid you will need to provide identification, proof of address and income for 30 days.

? What are the income guidelines to qualify for WIC?

Individuals receiving Medicaid, SNAP, TANF or FDPIR benefits automatically qualify for WIC. In addition, households can be over income for those programs and still qualify for WIC if their income is < 185% US Poverty Level based on household size. Foster children also are automatically eligible.
